It has been the historic practice at Reed College to admit students of any race, color, religion, sex, national and ethnic origin, and without regard to disabilities, veteran's status, or any other unlawful basis, nor upon sexual orientation or political beliefs, to all the rights, privileges, programs, and activities generally accorded or made available to students at the school. Reed does not consider any of the above attributes in administration of its educational policies, admission policies, scholarships and loan program, and athletic and other school-administered programs. Pursuant to Title VI of the 1964 Civil Rights Act, Title IX of the 1972 educational amendment, Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, and the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990, equal opportunity is national policy. Inquiries on the application of Title VI, Title IX, and Section 504 may be made to Edwin O. McFarlane, Reed College, or the director of the Office for Civil Rights.

Personal Statements

(Please type or print)

These personal statements are an important part of your application to the Young Scholars program and should help us get to know you better as a student and as a person. Your responses to questions one and two are required and should be original responses to the questions. If needed, you may attach an additional sheet to this form. We are looking for clarity and precision of expression, however, not length.

Please enclose a graded paper or exam from the academic field you wish to pursue as a Young Scholar at Reed.

1. Describe the educational experience—formal or informal—that has had the most significant effect on your life, and explain what you learned from the experience.

2. In what ways do you feel that participating in the Reed College Young Scholars Program will enrich your education and help you meet your academic goals? Please be sure to address your interest in the particular course you hope to take at Reed. (For those applicants who wish to take a Reed course in a subject not offered at their high school, please detail how you have pursued your interest independently.)

3. If there are any special issues or circumstances that you feel have not been addressed adequately in this application, or if there is another question you wish we had asked, please elaborate here (optional).
